Topics for your Campbell Macpherson keynotes, workshops and events

Change is inevitable. Successful change isn't.

The ability to lead change is the most important leadership skill of them all.

The ability to embrace change is the most important life skill of them all – and just as critical for your business.

88% of change fails. Your people can be the 1 in 8 who succeed.

Leading with Influence

Looking to develop your next generation of leaders?

Campbell's acclaimed 'Leading with Influence' programme he runs for multinational corporations worldwide is designed to do just that.

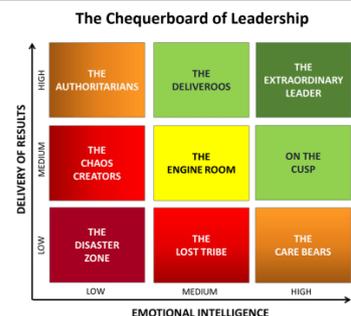

Leadership today has nothing to do with hierarchy. It has everything to do with influence.

Extraordinary Leadership and Leadership Teams

What makes an extraordinary leader? Campbell has worked with and interviewed so many of them over the decades.

Extraordinary leaders are not born, they are developed: high-EQ leaders who deliver sustainable results. Your leaders, at every level, can be extraordinary.

Where are you on the Chequerboard of Leadership?
 Where is your team on the Spectrum of Leadership Teams?

Enable your most experienced people to thrive

Does your D&I programme include ageism? The biggest 'ism' of them all. Ageism is rife in the world of business.

Are your most experienced people fulfilled and furthering their careers – with you? Are you helping them transition to their next phase?

Are you engaging with your 50+ customers - the ones with 75% of the wealth and 54% of discretionary spending – yet attract just 4% of ad spend?

Empower your most lucrative customers and your most valuable employees to thrive!

“Leadership is about becoming the best version of yourself, while empowering others to do the same.”

In a wide, varied and ongoing career, Campbell has been an entrepreneur, Strategy Director, HR Director, Marketing Director, eBusiness Director, board member, change leader, business adviser, CEO Whisperer, NED and adviser to some of the world’s largest organisations.

He was an early multimedia entrepreneur and began his career flying (badly) in the Air Force. Forty years on, and he still holds the dubious record for being the worst RAAF pilot ever to make it through to jets.

Global Speaker and Workshop Designer & Facilitator

Campbell has delivered inspirational keynote speeches and engaging workshops and webinars across the globe:

London, UK Nationwide, New York, Palm Beach, Sydney, Zurich, Las Vegas, Singapore, Nice, Frankfurt, Astana, Marrakesh, Budapest, ...
